Candidates Await Vote

Finalist with the most votes will reign as Homecoming Queen.

Presidential Inauguration Nov. 11 Will Be First In Nineteen Years

For the first time in 19 years Wartburg students will witness the inauguration of a new president. The last time a ceremony of this type was held on this campus was May 5, 1945, when Dr. C. H. Becker was inducted into office.

The inauguration of Dr. John W. Bachman on Nov. 11 will begin with an academic procession including Wartburg's faculty and Board of Regents, and representatives from other learned societies, colleges and universities.

According to Dr. Gerhard Ottersburg, chairman of the Inauguration Committee, the service will be based on the idea that Wartburg College has a two-fold obligation of holding a torch of religious faith in one hand and that of academic freedom on the other.

HIGH POINT OF the ceremony will be the inaugural address by Dr. Bachman.

"Admission to this service is restricted to invited guests, which include all members of the student body, and will be by admission card only," said Ottersberg.

After the service there will be a reception at 4 p.m. in the Homuth Memorial Library. All guests who were invited to the ceremony are also invited to the reception.

"Personal and official greetings may be given to Dr. Bachman at this time in the receiving line," said Ottersberg.

A DINNER WILL be held at 6 p.m. in the Student Memorial Union for the official hosts, which include the faculty and Board of Regents, as well as official guests.

Artists are now at work developing a symbol of office, according to Dr. James E. Fritschel, Music Department. Dr. C. H. Becker will present this to President Bachman during the ceremony to symbolize the transfer of office.

A brass choir will play both the processional and the recessional, and the Castle Singers will present Pfautch's "Christ's Foundation, Head and Cornerstone."

Fritschel is composing the processional and some incidental music for the occasion.

ACP Rates Castle All-American Book

The Castle, campus literary magazine, for the first time in its history has received an All-American (superior) rating by the Associated Collegiate Press. It is published in the spring of the year.

Editor of last year's Castle was Jacklyn Lohr. Associate editor was senior Barbara Bose, who is this year's editor. Artists for the magazine were Monica Leo and LaVonne Hendershot. Dr. Phillip Kildahl, English Department, serves as adviser for the publication.

Polish Orchestra Coming Oct. 25

A concert featuring the Warsaw Philharmonic Orchestra will be first in the Wartburg Artist Series programs for this school year.

The concert will conclude the Homecoming activities planned for next weekend and will be held in Knights Gymnasium Sunday, Oct. 25, beginning at 8 p.m.

The Philharmonic comes to Wartburg from Warsaw, Poland, on its second tour of the North American continent.

Organized in 1899 and presenting its first concert 18 months later in 1901, the orchestra was largely made up of foreigners.

During the years before World War I, the Philharmonic became one of the most famous in Europe. In 1958 it made its first major foreign tour in connection with the Brussels World Fair.

In January, 1961, the Warsaw Philharmonic made its debut tour of North America, winning critical and audience acclaim wherever it performed. It returns to America under the same conductor, Stanislaw Wislocki.

Featured as soloist will be one of Poland's outstanding musicians, violinist Wanda Wilkomirska.

Dell To Discuss Conformity Tues.; Convo Homecoming Kickoff Thurs.

Final address in the block "Springs of Human Behavior" and the opening program of Wartburg's 1964-65 Homecoming will highlight the forthcoming week's convocations.

Dr. Robert Dell, Religion Department, on Tuesday will discuss religious commitment as a source of behavior.

His address, "The Case for Conformity," will conclude the first of five major subjects to be considered under the year's general convocation theme, "Let Man be Man."

Thursday, the 10 Homecoming Queen finalists will be in the convocation spotlight as Mystery Convo begins a weekend of Homecoming festivities. As the 10 senior candidates are presented, the student body will vote for the queen who will reign over Homecoming festivities.

The program itself, of course, is still a mystery that will be unfolded in Knights Gym after the student body marches behind the pep band from the fishpond to the gym.

Chairman of the event, junior Carol Wessels, could only reveal that "Wendy will be there."

Homecoming Events To Include 4 Special Contests With Prizes

A number of contests will be special features of Homecoming weekend. Included will be a beard-judging contest, "greased-pole" contest, "yell like hell" contest and a can-stacking contest.

Thursday night, during the Mighty Knights March, students will have a chance to climb a greasy pole for money prizes.

The "yell like hell" contest, also to be held during the March, is open only to the men's dorms. Each dorm will be allowed two minutes to present a skit which will be judged on originality and cleverness.

The freshman beard-judging contest will be held during Kastle Kapers, Friday night. All prospective participants should meet with Larry Weight, chairman of special contests committee, Tuesday at 7:30 in Fuchs Lounge.

Saturday noon, a can-stacking contest will be featured on the Luther Mall. Representatives from each dorm will compete.

Jim Folkerts, Novelties chairman, presents one of the first Homecoming buttons to Homecoming Chairman Bob Bone, who in turn forks over 50 cents.

Receptions, Meetings On Alumni Schedule

Wartburg alumni will find several events during the Homecoming weekend of special significance to them.

Registration for alumni will begin at 4 p.m. Friday in the gym and will close at 8 p.m. Saturday morning registration will take place in both the gym and at Carver's Restaurant from 8:30 until 10 a.m.

Alumni Association breakfast and annual meeting will begin at Carver's Saturday morning at 8:30. A coffee social hour for alumni will begin at 4 p.m. Saturday in the traditional alumni tent outside the gym.

GUIDED TOURS OF the campus begin at 11 a.m. Saturday in connection with the open house at housing units. Tours will begin from the Chapel-auditorium.

Guided tours of the new Union will take place after the dedication ceremonies Sunday at 3 p.m. Open house in the dormitories will be held from 1:30 - 3 p.m.

Several reunions are also scheduled to take place in conjunction with Homecoming festivities.

THE CLASSES OF 1939 and 1954 will hold reunions at Carver's Restaurant at 5 p.m. Friday. A reception for members of the class of 1959 will be held at Carver's at 11:15 a.m. Saturday.

Vollmer House reunion will begin at 6 p.m. Saturday at Roger's Famous Foods in New Hampton.

Parents' Day To Be Nov. 7

Parents' Day will be observed on Saturday, Nov. 7. High lights of the day will include a program featuring college officials and athletic events.

Activities will begin at 9 a.m. with registration and a coffee hour. A program for parents will follow. Dr. John W. Bachman, college president, will be one of the speakers on the program.

Parents will also be guests of the college at a cross-country meet in the morning and a football game with Central in the afternoon. A coffee at 3:30 p.m. will conclude the activities.

Symhony Season Begins With Performance Sunday

Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra will begin its second decade as a musical organization with its first concert of the season tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Chapel - auditorium.

Works by Mozart, Vivaldi, Lully, Bizet and Malcolm Arnold will be presented.

Featured soloist in the "Vivaldi Piccolo Concerto in C Major" is Judith Bentley. Mrs. Bentley received her bachelor of music degree at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, Oberlin, Ohio, and has done advanced work at Yale University, New Haven, Conn., where she studied privately under William Kincaide.

The balance of the program contains stylistic and music forms from the 17th to the 20th centuries.

Composed of college students and Waverly citizens, the orchestra has also drawn musicians from many miles away.

Admission to the concert is 50 cents or by season ticket. Anyone wishing to purchase a season ticket for performances throughout the year may see Bob Gremmels, Alumni Office, or the box office before Sunday night's concert, according to Gremmels.

Schmidt Performs In Thurs. Recital

First faculty recital of the year in the Music Department will be presented by Dr. warren Schmidt, organist, in the Fine Arts Center Thursday at 8 p.m.

Schmidt will begin with "Aria" by Peter Quint. Other numbers will be "Two Organ Chorales, 'Wo Woll Ich Fliehen Hin' and 'Meine Seele Erhebt Den Herren," both by J. S. Bach. Also included will be "Symphonic Prelude on Psalm 103," by Frederick Marriott.

Second half of the program will feature "Allegro (Symphony II)" by Louis Vierne; "Prelude on Brother James' Air," Searle Wright; and "Troisieme Choral" by Hendrick Andriessen.

Schmidt will conclude the program with his own composition, "Thanksgiving Suite."

MCB Sponsors Hunt

A scavenger hunt, sponsored by the Men's Co-ordinating Board, will be held in the Union tonight at 7:30. There will be no admission charge. Free refreshments will be served and prizes will be given to the winners.

Group Handles Gripes

Your welfare is in our hands! Yes, it's true and even a little bit shocking. But such a situation is necessary. Without some group to assume the problems of students, nothing positive could be accomplished toward solving these problems.

It isn't practical for all 1,249 of us to stand alone on something that concerns everyone, and expect our voices to be heard as well as if we spoke in unison.

I'm not advocating mass prayer meetings to solve our cafeteria problems. But there are means for the student to voice his opinion and to make his weight felt.

THESE MEANS are the Student Welfare Committee and the Cafeteria Committee. Their whole reason for existence is concern for student welfare.

The Student Welfare Committee works directly under the Student Senate and is interested in improving conditions for students. It is made up of four senators and ten other students who expressed a desire to serve on the committee.

There is little or no glamour in being on this committee. The greatest satisfaction its members could hope to receive is in knowing that they are doing something positive toward improving the general state of affairs for students.

DON'T GET US wrong, though. Benevolence isn't the only thing in our hearts. We're Wartburg students, too, you know!

In order to accomplish anything, a committee must meet regularly. Student Welfare Committee meets the first Thursday of every month. All students are welcome to attend these meetings, which are held in Fuchs Lounge at 7:30 p.m.

The Cafeteria Committee, which is a subcommittee of the Student Welfare Committee, meets once a week. Since there have been schedule problems, this committee doesn't have a definite meeting time as yet. Its main purpose is to serve as a mediator of cafeteria problems.

IT IS COMPOSED of Mr. Fredrick, Mrs. Grube and four students. Student members are senior Marcia Rench, junior Sharon Oppermann, sophomore Larry Pleggenkuhle and freshman Dave Suby.

Besides setting up the Cafeteria Committee, the SWC has also completed the sale of Student Health Insurance recently. During this time, the cafeteria also gave us some headaches.

You may have noticed that we haven't solved them all yet, but there has been some progress made. We are trying to lessen the time spent waiting for meals. And we found that the reason for links one night and hot dogs the next was the strike at Rath's in Waterloo.

THESE ARE just a few of the problems in relation to the cafeteria. But if you have a complaint about the cafeteria, be specific. If you say the food is lousy, we can do little. However, if you make a specific comment, such as the silverware is dirty, we can make suggestions for improvement.

The Student Welfare Committee is also checking into Den hours. After writing to other schools, checking the hours of other establishments in Waverly and the time of activities on campus, as well as other details, we will soon have action one way or another on possibilities of lengthening the hours in the Den.

We are also checking the possibility of girls' wearing slacks to supper in the cafeteria on Friday nights.

ALL OF THESE actions have taken a lot of work and cutting of red tape. And efforts of this committee don't have the same spectacular effect as those of certain minority groups who use methods contalning negative overtones.

Although demonstrations by these minority groups may have noble intentions, their methods are so crude that they achieve nothing but inconvenience for others and bad publicity for the college.

Any future actions by the cafeteria, the senate or the administration will not be taken because of the pranks of a few.

They will, instead, be achieved by students who have sensibly come to the right people with their grievances.

Jim Lubben, Student Welfare Committee Chairman

Folkerts' Folly

Dollies Don't Dilly Dally

BY JIM FOLKERS

It seems to me that there is an existing element around Wartburg College that needs to be dealt with in a severe manner. This problem is getting out of hand. Fifty per cent of the student body is taking it on the nose because of this outrageous injustice.

Actually the problem probably doesn't have to be mentioned because even the most isolated of the students are aware of its existence. But for the benefit of the few sleepy-headed individuals on the Wartburg Campus, I had better set this problem straight before you.

FOLKERTS

THE ELEMENT which is raising havoc around Wartburg just naturally happens to be the average Wartburg woman.

--o--

The major problem at hand seems to be man-chasing. Let me say this: Freshman honeys have added greatly to the Wartburg woman's power of male preying. These young, inexperienced freshmen arrived and set their appeal to work for them almost immediately.

This new, gigantic rush, along with the already traditional push of the old-timers, has faced the Wartburg gentleman with a startling dilemma. Now he is hit from all angles. From young and old, from those he knows, and now from those he doesn't even know exist.

THERE MUST BE some secret club or organization at Wartburg where the new dollies learn man-chasing techniques immediately upon their arrival.

--o--

There are many techniques, 90 per cent of which the male population do not even know exist. Some of the common ones are the mysterious, unidentified telephone calls; the sweet, innocent conversations; the relayed messages; and the forever unforgetting and unrelenting shadows.

This year things have changed somewhat. The dollies are much braver. They are now using the brazen, forward, straight-to-the-point approach. (Go ahead and ask him to Homecoming if you want to, girls.)

THIS HAS MADE the average male extremely nervous and has given him a feeling of being pressured, as so many really are. Why, it has even reached the point where most gents are afraid to walk by bushes, lest some forlorn dolly be lurking there waiting for a chance to grab them.

Some have even become very possessive, taking certain items belonging to the gentleman and not returning them. They usually have no need for these items and are always showing them to everyone, saying, "See what my little sweetie gave to me."

--o--

It seems they usually win out in the long run. However, because of their great wisdom and womanly intuition (which is usually pure stupidity), they watch their capture too closely because they are afraid of, or seem to sense, freedom movements. Now this is ridiculous! No one has heard of any major freedom movements - - yet!

NOW, I MUST not be prejudiced, so I will present the female side of the picture in regard to the action of her fellow Knights. First of all, it seems that the male . . . well, he sometimes . . . In facing reality I cannot find any injustices caused by the average male student when dealing with the fairer sex.

--o--

I would like to add that I will probably receive many replies to my truthful article, as I have received in years past on similar topics. However, this time sign your names, girls, so they can be published the following week.

Convo Review

Belgum Adds Life To Behavior Block

BY ALAN R. SCHULTZ

The convocation block on "The Springs of Human Behavior" finally sprung into life last Thursday. Dr. David Belgum, associate professor in the School of Religion at the State University of Iowa, gave a captivating talk on "The Axes of Concern in Personality."

Axes on which Dr. Belgum spoke were the time axis and the space axis. Man has these two axes to contend with in his life.

"Man is caught up in the thread of time," said Dr. Belgum.

THE TIME AXIS is concerned with the past, the present and the future. The past can be measured, and all of man's achievements and failures can be counted and recorded.

Too often, according to Dr. Belgum, we analyze a person's problems with facts gathered only from the past. We narrow man down to a biography of numbers and take away his true personal identity.

There is more to man. This can be described as the space axis. This axis runs vertically rather than horizontally like the time axis. It is the present of man.

LOWER END OF the space axis is biological man. Just as man's past can be measured, this too can be measured and analyzed scientifically.

Dr. Belgum went on to say that we must not stop here. The top of this axis is meaning. Man must adopt or invent a cosmology to give meaning to life, but if he fails to do this effectively, he seeks out a psychiatrist.

It is the top of the space axis, meaning, where God and falth play an enormous role. Dr. Belgum pointed out that man needs falth to live by; he needs a system into which all things can be placed in an orderly manner to give meaning and substance to life.

THE FUTURE ALSO aids in the meaning of life. Goals must be far-reaching and set high to give something to work toward rather than to be pushed toward. They must be chosen in relation to the meaning of life.

Dr. Belgum pointed out clearly and vividly by use of illustrations and observation that these axes are related to each other, and a person dealing with human problems must consider all facets found on these two axes to be justifiably successful.

It is speakers like Dr. Belgum and topics presented in this manner that over-ride many of the other convo disappointments. It is this type of convo that eases the pain of required convo and makes it worthwhile and educational.

Letters To The Editor

Protesters, Patriots Share Similar Views

To the Editor:

You have criticized and branded as immature the men who took part in the mild "food protest" held over a week ago. You have criticized them because they did not take their grievances to the Student Welfare Committee.

Like any other bureaucratic organization, the Student Welfare Committee is limited in its power because it is only a unit of the larger institution, Wartburg College, and must follow its rules and traditions.

The men who took part in the so-called "food protest" understood these limitations of the Student Welfare Committee and expressed themselves through direct action.

DIRECT ACTION is as much a part of our American tradition as is our flag, Old Glory. In Boston the overtaxed American colonists did not appeal their grievances to the royal magistrate, but went out and applied direct action to get their point across.

We now know this as the Boston Tea Party. We admire these men as great patriots, not as immature individuals.

Still, the main issue here is the manner in which these students showed their contempt for the cafeteria food. All students who eat their meals in the cafeteria have their own opinions of the quality of food served there.

Some students like the food and express themselves through compliments, or if they lack the words, with contented smiles.

THE MEN WHO staged their "food protest" were obviously dissatisfied with the food. Like a sculptor who expresses himself with his hands, these men showed their emotions through their hands.

Are these students who are trying to awaken Wartburg to a truth to be condemned?

Should we not, as a student body, admire and support these men who are fighting as all free men have fought in the past, to secure a better way of life?

Very sincerely,
Kurt Weiland
Grossmann II

Knights And Penn Battle Today; Winner Leaves Bottom Position

BY BILL GLITZ

Wartburg Knights tried to spoil William Penn's homecoming this afternoon as the two bottom teams of the Iowa Conference met each other in Oskaloosa's Community Stadium at 2 p.m.

Today's game, which was originally scheduled for this evening, was switched to this afternoon to accommodate homecoming activities on the Penn campus. The contest is almost a repeat of the Wartburg - Iowa Wesleyan game of last Saturday as far as the pre-game circumstances go.

BOTH TEAMS ARE winless thus far in the 1964 campaign, and each squad has been thumped pretty soundly in most of its games. Last weekend Iowa Wesleyan clipped Wartburg by a surprising 25-7 score, while Upper Iowa, a team which beat Wartburg 34-6, laced Penn, 49-0.

Wartburg fans must remember, however, that before coming to town last week, Iowa Wesleyan had been thoroughly routed the week before by Central, 83-0. Wesleyan then proceeded to dump the Knights.

Penn not only had last week's defeat at the hands of UIU to spur it on to greater things this week, but the fact that homecoming is occurring on Penn's campus should also lift the Statesmen to a better effort.

ON THE OTHER HAND, Wartburg has some incentive, also. The Knights don't believe that they are as bad as last week's loss to Wesleyan would indicate, and they will try to prove this fact to Penn this afternoon.

If the Knights hope to do this, they must begin to move the football much earlier in the game than they have been doing previously.

Coach Norm Johansen, in trying to put his finger on just what has caused the Knights to get off to such a poor start this season, said, "Our offense has just been behind the eight ball.

"WE ARE NEVER in good field position, and when we finally do begin to move the ball we have to play catch-up and have to try for the long bomb."

Freshman Al Anderson, Knights' starting guard the past four weeks, was a doubtful starter today.

Jerry Schrader, who did see limited action last week, was declared to be fit for full-time duty today. Coach Johansen said that Schrader would start at a defensive linebacking position. Jim Renning was also set to return to his fullback slot.

LOOKING TO PENN, Jo commented, "They have a big halfback in Chuck Henry, who was an all-conference player as a freshman. They are much better than their 49-0 loss to Upper Iowa would indicate. It will be their homecoming, which will make it harder on us. We know they'll be ready."

Next weekend the Luther Norsemen will invade Schield Stadium for a 2 p.m. Homecoming encounter with the Knights. (KWAR-FM, 1:45 CST)

3 Faculty Members, Ten P. E. Students Attend State Confab

Three members of the Wartburg Athletic Department and ten students were in Des Moines yesterday attending a meeting of the Iowa Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Faculty members attending were Miss Nancy Mista, Miss Ruth Meyer and David Olson. Miss Meyer, president - elect, took over duties as president of the Association, whereas Olson was re-elected treasurer at the meeting.

Physical Education majors and minors and faculty members heard an opening speech given by Miss Anita Aldrich, past president of the National Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Individual section meetings and demonstrations were also a part of the afternoon program.

Runners Split In Two Meets

Knight harriers, bouncing back from their first loss of the season, defeated Loras 22-34, at the Waverly Country Club Saturday.

Wartburg was led by freshman Jon Thieman, who placed first in the meet with a time of 16:04. He was followed closely by Larry Kruse of Loras, 2nd, and Jim Rasmuson of Wartburg, who placed 3rd with a time of 16:27. Wartburg's Galen Fick was 4th with a time of 16:27.5

Remainder of the squad alternated with the Loras runners as Arlyn Ristau placed 6th; Mike Hughes, 8th; Roger Stufflebeam, 10th; and Bruce Kettner, 12th. This was enough help to protect Wartburg's early lead.

On Wednesday afternoon, the Knights did not fare as well, however, as they fell before arch-rival Luther, 21-34 at Decorah. Gene Tackle, one of the outstanding runners in the Iowa Conference, led the Norsemen.

The win and loss during the last week brought the Knights' season record to 3-2.

Today they will be on the road again as they travel to Platteville, Wis., to take on Platteville State College.

Ketha Falls In I-M Action, Breaks 2-Year Win Record

This week saw a complete shuffling of the flag football standings. Ketha fell to defeat for the first time in two years.

The other two teams at the top of last week's standings, Alpha-Married Men and North Hall, fought to a deadlock to drop them in the standings. Vollmer remains the only undefeated, untied team in the standings for a shaky hold on first place.

Vollmer scored all its touchdowns by running as it slipped past Clinton II 26-19. John Mantey scored three touchdowns for Vollmer as Gerald Baldner formed the defensive mainstay. Clinton II's passing combination of Rich Medlar and Jack Swanson formed its basic offense.

SATURDAY'S OTHER contest saw Cotta - Gamma - Grossmann Basement bury Grossmann II's spotty defense 26-0. Opening minutes of the contest featured two quick touchdowns by Cotta and company, which left Grossmann II demoralized for the remainder of the game.

Tuesday found Grossmann I forfeiting to Clinton Basement. The big game of the day was the battle between Ketha and Off-campus. Off-campus scored the only tally of the afternoon on a pass interception by Fran Wollenzien to account for the 6-0 score.

Ketha managed to cross the 50-yard line just once in the defensive battle, and was able to pick up only two first downs against Off - campus' strong defensive line.

The Lamplighters were forced to repel four Off-campus thrusts deep in their own territory.

UPPER FRAME of Thursday's contests ended in Grossmann II's forfeit to Clinton Basement. In the battle for first place, North Hall fought Alpha-Married Men to a scoreless tie.

Neither team was able to drive even close to the goal line with the exception of a pass which North let fall incomplete on the 3-yard line. The deadlock drops both teams behind Vollmer, which has played fewer games but has an unmarred record.

Golf And Tennis In Fall Debuts

BY GALEN FICK

For the first time in Wartburg I-M history, intramural golf and tennis have been introduced into the fall I-M program on a successful basis.

Fifteen I-M golfers teed off today at 1 p.m. in a single day nine-hole playoff at the Waverly Golf Course.

Nineteen I-M tennis players have already begun the single elimination tournament, which will be completed in the near future, weather permitting. This type of tournament utilizes a pro set system whereby the first player to win 12 games is the winner.

THE ENTHUSIASM and response for this segment of the I-M program has been adequate and favorable," said Harold Shudlick, student I-M director.

"For those students who missed or were unable to participate in the 1-M golf or tennis this fall," Shudlick added, "there will be a similar program of this type in the spring if enough interest is shown by the students.

"Furthermore, medals and certificates or banners are given to the winners of these as well as other I-M activities.

"IN ADDITION, winners in these events also receive points toward the floor participation award given at the conclusion of the I-M program in the spring."

Shudlick concluded, "In Wartburg's attempt to offer a well diversified I-M program to its students, I would like students to suggest to me or promote enthusiasm among others on the idea of adding other activities or tournaments to the 1-M program.

Few Lights Glow In Dark

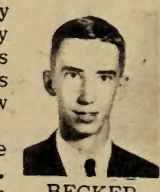
BY MIKE BECKER

The Green Bay Packers won another one last Sunday. Oh, yes, and the Wartburg Knights dropped one last Saturday.

Well, now to get down to the hard and cruel facts of last Saturday's brawl. First of all on the plus side, I have to put in a plug for my two all-conference candidates.

--o--

Ron Mennen should have little difficulty making all-conference at one of the linebacker positions. He has probably handled more business out on the field than any other two men. He is averaging around 12 tackles a game, plus helping out on many others. He goes in there with the reckless abandon of the now gone Johnson brothers.



BECKER

PAUL ZIETLOW SHOULD make all-conference again, only this time at the offensive end position. Paul could possibly break Little All-American Wendell Liemohn's pass reception record for a season. With his sure hands, Ziet has been our best bet on pass plays for the vital first downs.

--o--

Rog Kittleson turned in another fine job at the halfback position. Kit hits with as much force as anyone and has proven our best broken field runner.

Dale Fridley, a marked man by the opposition, came up with his best game of the season at offensive tackle. And Bill Karrow turned in a fine job at fullback, consistently pounding away for yardage and once almost breaking away for the long one.

ON DEFENSE, besides Mennen, Doug Sires turned in another good performance in the defensive backfield. Sires isn't afraid to go out there and bang someone around a little.

Jerry Schrader finally got in after an injury had kept him out for the first month and showed that he might be ready to help shore up the defense. R. D. Howie also showed up pretty well several times on defense.

As for a criticism of last Saturday's game, I'll sum it up in three important words -- fumbles and PASS DEFENSE. Enough said.

There was finally some spirit exhibited at a football game. Last Saturday half of the fans stood up for the better part of the game. Maybe they just wanted to see if their roommates were at the game.
